

Equality Act- Supreme Court Ruling 2025

The Trustees of Black Swan Arts, mindful of their responsibilities under the Gender Recognition Act 2004, the Equality Act 2010 and in response to the Supreme Court ruling of 16th April 2025, have made the following decision:

As soon as finances allow, toilet spaces at the Black Swan will be converted to single use facilities that will be available to all, including people with disabilities.

By providing separate, single use spaces we aim to ensure that safety, privacy and dignity are safeguarded for all protected characteristics but especially for people with disabilities, women and transgender people.

We shall abide by building regulations (blah, blah).

Note that our toilets are not changing rooms. Baby changing is unaffected.
